Claire Allen, a celebrated event manager and food entertainer, is the founder of Top of the World, a bespoke experience agency that crafts unique, unforgettable events in iconic locations previously unavailable to the public, inspiring and forging lasting memories.

Her passion for food and wine, ignited by her appearance on MasterChef South Africa in 2014, led to a successful career combining marketing and the culinary arts. After MasterChef, Claire launched her blog, Food Is Love, and quickly became a sought-after celebrity chef. She has headlined events like The Good Food & Wine Show and Taste of London, and appeared regularly on SABC 3's Expresso breakfast show. Claire has also hosted live demos at prominent events and created the popular live cooking demo show, "Short Chef Skinny Chef." Claire's early start in the kitchen and on TV, with her role on ETV's Craze-E, paved the way for her entrepreneurial ventures. She founded Signature Productions at 17, managing high-profile events and launching whisky brands like Black Bottle and Bain's Cape Mountain Whisky. In 2018, Claire hosted "Share a Taste of Home" in the UK, a pop-up restaurant featuring South African cuisine. She aims to continue sharing South Africa's unique flavours with the world through her bespoke experiences.

Claire can provide the following services:

- Public speaking, MC & event hosting
- Brand ambassadorship & activations
- Cooking classes & demonstrations
- Pop-up restaurants & experiences
- Recipe and video production for online use & social media platforms
